

Have your say on future plans for Gloucester, Cheltenham and Tewkesbury

Local residents and businesses will be asked to give their views on a new document called the Joint Core Strategy (JCS), in a ten week consultation period that starts on Monday 23 November. At this stage issues and key questions are being consulted on and local people are encouraged to have their say.

The JCS will set out the approach that the Councils will take to protect and enhance the natural and historic environment, deal with climate change, and set out policies for the location and timing of new housing and employment development, regeneration initiative, key infrastructure, community, leisure and tourism facilities.

The JCS Team will be holding an exhibition at Quedgeley Parish Council Offices on Monday 30th November 2009 between 3pm and 8pm. Come along and have a chat about what the JCS means for you and how you can get involved.

Alternatively, copies of the consultation document will be available to view on JCS website (www.gct-jcs.org), and hard copies can be viewed at all local libraries, the City Council offices and Quedgeley Parish Council offices.
